SPECIAL LECTURE

Special Lecture on “Heat Resilience planning and Governance” on 30th march 2024 by Mr Rajneesh Sareen, Programme Director , CSE, New Delhi.

Concluded the talk as Heat resilience planning and governance are critical to addressing the increasing threat of extreme heat events due to climate change. Cities and regions need to take proactive steps to enhance their heat resilience, combining infrastructure improvements, public health initiatives, policy frameworks, and community engagement. With a collaborative, inclusive, and multi-level governance approach, we can ensure that urban spaces are more resilient, sustainable, and equitable in the face of rising temperatures.
